

Rural Address Sign Placement

Address signs shall be placed at the end of the driveway on the right-hand side, when viewing the property from the road. The only exception being when two homes are accessed from the same driveway – then the signs shall be placed to indicate which home each number has been assigned.

All signs must be in clear view, and visible to vehicles traveling in both directions on the roadway at all times. Bushes and trees must be kept trimmed to allow clear view.

The sign shall be not less than 5 feet and no more than 10 feet from the edge of the driveway. The sign shall be not less than 15 feet and no more than 20 feet from the edge of the road pavement or gravel. The only exceptions to these requirements being if the sign would be blocked from view or become a hazard to traffic on road.

The sign shall be between 48 inches and 60 inches above the ground. The only exceptions being if these height requirements place the sign below the road pavement/gravel level or more than 8 feet above road pavement/gravel level.

Land owners required to have a driveway access point address sign may also wish to include an address number on the main structure near the front entrance.
